AUTHOR'S LICENSE TERMS

1. Acceptable use: you may use the files provided to build your own Prometheus trailer, and you can alter the design as you see fit. The author also permits production of this vehicle for relief efforts, humanitarian work, and other not-for-profit endeavors.

2: Non-commercial: the Prometheus is not intended to be mass manufactured or sold for any type of profit or profit-oriented scheme, as to do so would violate the terms of the License.

3. Attribution: all links, notations, and logos linking www.crimsonhalo.com or otherwise crediting the original author must be kept intact at all times.

4. Modification: if you change the original design, you must differentiate your work from that of the author. Please make a note on your site and include a change-log with any files you choose to redistribute that contain derivative works.

5. Distribution: if you wish to redistribute the project files, they must be provided to other users in their complete, original, and unaltered state. You can download a ZIP archive of these materials from the project homepage.

Linking is permitted and encouraged. You can also find graphics at the project homepage for linking and promotion if you wish.

Mirroring is allowed but not encouraged because incremental updates may be released which render old designs obsolete. If you still want to run a mirror, please refrain from copying any part of the website. There is a master ZIP file on the project homepage which you can download for this purpose.

6. Your responsibility and safety: the project data provided is offered on an 'as-is' basis for informational purposes only, and without warranty or guarantee of any kind. The user agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the author(s) of the project from any and all claims, demands, damages, costs and liabilities, including reasonable attorneys' fees, made by any third party due to or arising out of that user's acts or omissions, including any claims arising out of that user's use or misuse of project data; his or her submissions, modifications, and contributions; posting or transmission of any information, or violation of license terms.

The user declares that the author shall be absolved of any and all responsibility for the user's choice to proceed with construction or assembly of a project. The user agrees to accept any risks inherent in carrying out such a venture and further acknowledges that he or she is to be held solely liable for his or her own acts, omissions, undertakings, or consequences at all times.

The user declares that the author shall be absolved of any responsibility in relation to the user's choice to engage in development or creation of any kind of derivative work based on one or more of the author's works. Any person who chooses to make derivatives agrees to accept any risks or liability inherent in carrying out such a venture, and further acknowledges that he or she is to be held solely liable for his or her own acts, omissions, or undertakings at all times, regardless of any other circumstances or conditions.

The user agrees that, because he or she ultimately has control over the work environment for his or her own ventures, it wholly remains the user's responsibility to ensure that all appropriate safety and personal protective measures are followed.

7. Local and/or regional laws: the user agrees to properly research and observe any local laws or regulations that may affect the assembly or use of the project. The user further understands that the author is not a lawyer and is not qualified to give region-specific legal opinions.
